2015 Capital Market Day

Paris, May 29, 2015 - Capgemini organized yesterday its annual Capital Market Day during which the Group reported on market trends as well as the evolution of its business and its offerings. During this event, the Group Chairman and CEO Paul Hermelin reviewed customer's main expectations as well as the planned acquisition of the US firm IGATE announced on April 27.

On this occasion, Capgemini announced its ambition to achieve a medium-term operating margin of between 12.5% and 13.0%. This ambition is based on three main levers: innovation, industrialization and globalization of its business. The group presented its offerings portfolio notably its new global Cybersecurity service line, its Digital offering and its solutions in Big Data and Analytics (Insights & Data).

The Group also confirmed its 2015 guidance (revenue growth, at current rates and perimeter, of at least 5% an operating margin rate between 9.5% and 9.8% and an organic free cash flow above €600M) and its medium-term target of achieving an organic growth of between 5% and 7%.
